Prof. Richard Campanella, geographer and associate dean for research with the Tulane School of Architecture, is the author of eleven books and over 220 articles on New Orleans-area geography, history, urbanism, and related topics. His research, which integrates mapping and spatial analyses with architecture, social science and the humanities, has been praised in the New York Review of Books, Journal of Southern History, Places Journal, Urban History, Louisiana History, Journal of the Abraham Lincoln Association, and Bloomsbury Review. The only two-time winner of the Louisiana Endowment for the Humanities Book of the Year Award, Campanella has also received the Louisiana Literary Award, the Williams Prize for Louisiana History, the Malcolm Heard Award for Excellence in Teaching, the Hannah Arendt Prize for Scholarship in the Public Interest, the Tulane Honors Professor of the Year Award, and the Association of American Geographers' Media Achievement Award. In 2016, the Government of France named Campanella as Chevalier dans l'Ordre des Palmes Académiques (Knight in the Order of the Academic Palms), and in 2019, the State of Louisiana awarded him the 20th annual Louisiana Writer Award.
